Ageing

Ageing or aging is the accumulation of changes in a person over time. Ageing in humans refers to a multidimensional process of physical, psychological, and social change. Some dimensions of ageing grow and expand over time, while others decline. Reaction time, for example, may slow with age, while knowledge of world events and wisdom may expand. Research shows that even late in life, potential exists for physical, mental, and social growth and development.

Apple's assemblers prepare for iPhone 6 with huge hiring spree

Luke Dormehl (3:22 am PDT, Jun 23rd)

Like 8 Tweet 85 P 3

Foxconn and Pegatron — the two leading manufacturers set to produce the iPhone 6 — have been on a massive hiring spree as of late.

According to Taiwan's Economic Daily News, Foxconn will recruit in excess of 100,000 new workers in mainland China to help assemble Apple's much-anticipated next generation iPhone. It had previously been reported that the company was opening up new factory space to carry out the work.

Rival Taiwanese assembler Pegatron will also be upping the workforce in one of its factories by 30 percent in order to meet the demand the influx of new work will place on it.

Foxconn is reported to be handling 70 percent of the production duties on the iPhone 6, while Pegatron will handle the remaining 30 percent. Previous speculation had put Pegatron's reported role in the assembly process down as far as 15 percent, and as large as 50 percent.

Mass production of the devices is set to commence next month, in time for a September launch.

While there's been (unsurprisingly) no official confirmation from Apple, most people are expecting the iPhone 6 to come in two sizes: a 4.7-inch model and a larger, more expensive 5.5-inch "phablet" variant.

To: Barbara Kelly <abilenemacuser2@gmail.com>

Barbara,

My grand daughter let the battery die on my old phone and now it won't charge back up. Does Tom know a trick for pulling the pictures off of a dead phone?

She would be very appreciative!

Thanks!

Not exactly sure... but more than likely it may have some thing to do with your "sign in acct."
Go to settings,
Scroll down to iTunes and App Store
Check to see which Apple ID each iPhone is logged into.
Do you each have a separate ID?

Although I know that you said that passwords should not be shared, even with a spouse, my husband and I do share.

My husband recently purchased an App using our mutual password and his iPhone. He paid for it with our mutual Visa card.

I now have his desired App on my phone but he does not have it on his phone.

In the past, we have always been able to share our apps. What might have happened? Oh yes, we have iPhone 4.
