The Web IS Dangerous

DANGEROUS LIAISONS

OCT 04 2014

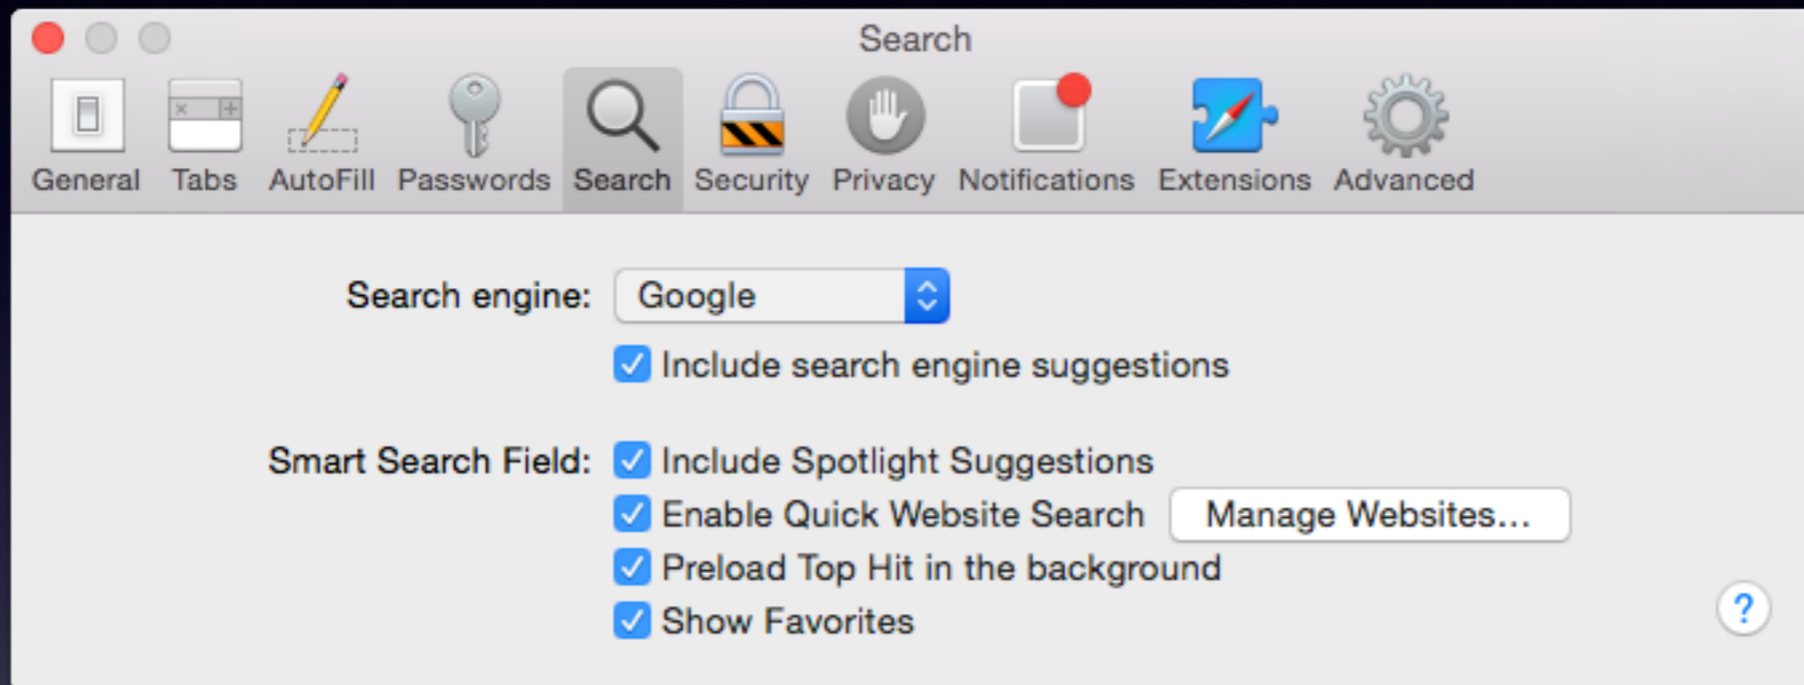

If you're about to Google Jimmy Kimmel, beware.

Computer security company McAfee says the talk show host is the most dangerous celebrity to search for online.

The company said Tuesday a search for Kimmel carries a 19-percent chance of landing on a website that has tested positive for spyware, viruses or malware. The company has used its own site ratings to make the determination for the past eight years.

Other celebrities McAfee deems dangerous this year include Ciara, Flo Rida, Bruce Springsteen, Chelsea Handler and Christina Aguilera.

Authorities said the 31-year-old Frein had copies of psalms and scriptures, DVDs, shortwave and weather band radios and a laptop computer, according to the five-page search warrant inventory. They said they also found a pair of storage drives, a solar power converter, earbuds and a wireless mouse.

Frein told authorities he used unprotected Wi-Fi hotspots to connect to the Internet, according to court documents, raising the possibility he knew where police were focusing their search efforts each day.

Prior to his capture, state police had surmised Frein was breaking into cabins and unoccupied vacation homes for food and shelter.

Re: How to take care of Macbook Pro battery?

in response to iRise

Here's a few tips:

Keep it plugged in when you're close to a power outlet.

Once in a while, use it under it's own power and when it's down to 75%, charge it back up to keep it in optimal conditon.

Every couple of months, use it till it's down to 20% and charge it back up....

Do not let it go all the way down to 0% - might do more harm than good to your Macbook and battery.

As for the charge cycle, 0 - 100% is 1 cycle. so if you use your macbook till it's down to 75%, then it will take you 4 days to complete 1 cycle.

Do not calibrate your battery - that only applies to the old removable batteries...

Apple sends email notifications when users sign into iCloud.com

By Joseph Keller, Monday, Sep 8, 2014 a 11:05 am EDT

Apple has added a new layer of security to iCloud, notifying users when someone logs into iCloud.com using their email address and password. When you log in to the site, Apple will send you an email notifying you that someone has your credentials have been used on iCloud.com, and instructing you either to ignore the email if you did this yourself, or what steps to take if you didn't.

Dear Joseph Keller,

Your Apple ID () was used to sign in to iCloud via a web browser.

Date and Time: September 8, 2014, 7:52 AM PDT

If you recently signed in to iCloud.com, you can disregard this email.

If you have not signed in to iCloud.com recently and believe someone may have accessed your account, you should reset your password at My Apple ID.
