Keep Your Mac Awake!

The image shows a screenshot of the Mac App Store preview for the 'Amphetamine' app. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Mac, iPad, iPhone, Watch, TV, Music, and Support. Below this, the 'Mac App Store Preview' section features a light blue button that says 'Open the Mac App Store to buy and download apps.' The app's main preview area includes the app icon (a tablet with a yellow pill), the title 'Amphetamine' with a 4+ age rating, the subtitle 'Powerful keep-awake utility', and the developer 'William Gustafson'. It also shows a 4.7 star rating from 939 users and a 'Free' price tag. A button labeled 'View in Mac App Store' is present. Below this is a larger, rounded window showing the app's details as they appear in the store. This window includes the app icon, title, subtitle, developer, a blue 'OPEN' button, a share icon, a 4.7 star rating with 939 ratings, a '#22' ranking in the 'Utilities' category, and a '4+' age rating. The 'What's New' section is titled '=== IMPROVEMENTS ===' and lists 'Added hot keys for toggling display sleep and screen saver'. A 'Version History' link is also visible, showing '5mo ago' and 'Version 4.2'.

The screenshot shows the top of the Federal Trade Commission's Consumer Information website. The header includes the FTC logo, the text "FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION Consumer Information", a search bar, and a language selector for "ESPAÑOL". Below the header is a navigation menu with categories: MONEY & CREDIT, HOMES & MORTGAGES, HEALTH & FITNESS, JOBS & MAKING MONEY, PRIVACY, IDENTITY & ONLINE SECURITY, SCAMS, BLOG, and VIDEO & MEDIA. The main content area features a breadcrumb trail "Home > Blog > This is what a Social Security scam sounds like" and a large title "This is what a Social Security scam sounds like". There are social media share buttons for Facebook, Twitter, and LinkedIn, and a "GET EMAIL UPDATES" button. The article text begins with "December 27, 2018 by Jennifer Leach, Acting Associate Director, Division of Consumer and Business Education, FTC." and continues with "Earlier this month, we told you about a growing scam: people pretend to be from the Social Security Administration (SSA) and try to get your Social Security number or your money. That scam is now growing exponentially. To compare: in 2017, we heard from 3,200 people about SSA imposter scams, and those people reported losing nearly $210,000. So far THIS year: more than 35,000 people have reported the scam, and they tell us they've lost $10 million." Below the text is a video player with a play button and a progress bar showing 0:00. On the right side, there are sections for "Recent Blog Posts" and "Browse by Topic".

Earlier this month, we told you about a growing scam: people pretend to be from the Social Security Administration (SSA) and try to get your Social Security number or your money. That scam is now growing exponentially. To compare: in 2017, we heard from 3,200 people about SSA imposter scams, and those people reported losing nearly $210,000. So far THIS year: more than 35,000 people have reported the scam, and they tell us they've lost $10 million.

Here's what one of those scam calls sound like:

How Should I Charge My iPhone To Save Battery Life!

A screenshot of the iPhone 'Battery Health' page. It features a descriptive paragraph about battery aging and a 'Learn more...' link. Below this, 'Maximum Capacity' is listed as 100%. A paragraph explains that this is a measure of battery capacity relative to when it was new. The 'Peak Performance Capability' section mentions that dynamic software and hardware systems help counter performance impacts. At the bottom, 'Optimized Battery Charging' is shown as a toggle switch that is turned on. A descriptive paragraph below it states: 'To reduce battery aging, iPhone learns from your daily charging routine so it can wait to finish charging past 80% until you need to use it.' A pink arrow points to this text.
